Community center Rojc is a unique space for culture and civil society. Situated in a repurposed building that forms part of the cultural heritage of Pula, the center gathers over a hundred organisations under one roof while also hosting numerous cultural and social events. The center is polyvalent space with wide spectrum of activities: culture, sports, psychosocial care and health services, activities for children and youth, care for the disabled, environmental protection, technical culture, ethnic minorities, etc.

Community center Rojc is a member of Trans Europe Halles.

Rojc Alliance

The Rojc Alliance is a network of Rojc organizations that presents and represents common interests, promotes mutual cooperation and carries out community actions and events. Main activities of Rojc Alliance are: management and events in Rojc public spaces - the Living room and inner courtyard; community radio Radio Rojc; community development programs; participatory governance; networking and fostering development of cultural and community centers; European Solidarity Corps volunteering programs. The Rojc Alliance has formed a kind of civic-public partnership with the City of Pula, which co-governs the center and encourages its development.

WHAT WE DO

The center is a host to 110 associations from various fields. Thousands of Rojc inhabitants and their visitors pass through its painted hallways each week — bringing vivid influence to the community life.

Calls for volunteers who want to use their innovative ways of thinking with the aim to connect and support the community through communication and mutual support. It would be useful in the person has a basic knowledge of digital skills.

The activities might include: working at the Info point, assisting in detecting the needs of the NGO's, enhancing solidarity in their activities, and assisting them to raise their visibility in the local community.

COMMUNITY SUPPORT

Calls for volunteers interested to learn more about organizing various events (art, literature, multimedia) and workshops (their own or of somebody else from the community), getting people together and motivating young people to participate more in society. It requests basic knowledge of digital skills (using the internet, social media, taking photos).

The activities might include: participation in co-creation of cultural events that aims to gather the whole community (NGO's, target groups, citizens, volunteers). The idea is that different NGO's from the Rojc Alliance gather and create events together with the assistance of volunteers. Volunteers will also have a chance to have their personal events/workshops, and to share their passion with others.

COMMUNITY EVENTS

Calls for volunteers interested in media, who wants to express their opinion about social issues important to them, and who have the ability to listen to other people since they will communicate with other members from the community on the radio. This activity will include volunteers in co-creation of the Radio Rojc shows aimed to connect citizens, especially the less represented segments of the population, including various minority groups. Volunteers will learn how to upload and edit radio shows, create podcasts, work at the mix board and will improve other technical skills. They will be supported in the creation of their own radio show/podcast about solidarity, in whom they will invite other volunteers from the community, or people in general to share their opinion on solidarity. They will improve their public speaking, critical thinking and inspire others to become aware of their potential positive influence on the community through the media space.

The activities might include participation in the co-creation of the community radio program (Radio Rojc), working on mixing board, , editing of music programs, editing and conducting of special broadcasts.

What you'll get

PULA, CROATIA

Pula is the largest city in Istria county, situated on the southern tip of Istrian peninsula with a population of 57,460. It is known for its multitude of ancient Roman buildings, the most famous of which is the Arena, one of the best preserved Roman amphitheatres, and its beautiful sea. The city has a long tradition of wine making, fishing, shipbuilding, and tourism.

---

Like the rest of the Istrian region Pula is known for its mild climate, tame sea, and unspoiled nature with an average of sunny days of 2,316 hours per year. The winters are pretty mild with occasional days when Bura blows (type of wind specific for Adriatic coast) and the summers are long, sunny and hot, perfect for swimming in the sea and laying on the beach.
